School Programs and Tours

The National Women’s History Museum offers several self-guided and guided tours. The most popular of these is the Women’s History Highlights Tour, which is offered to students and families for a fee. This tour is designed to help students learn about the achievements of women throughout American history. The tour includes visits to exhibits that highlight the lives and accomplishments of African American women, Asian American women, Native American women, and Hispanic women. Students will also learn about the roles of women in American society and the challenges they have faced.

Educational Outreach Programs

The National Women’s History Museum offers a variety of educational outreach programs for students of all ages. These programs are designed to help students learn about the achievements of women throughout American history. The programs include classroom visits, teacher workshops, and online resources.

Guided Tours

Guided tours are available for pre-kindergarten through grade 12. The tours are led by knowledgeable and enthusiastic museum staff. Each tour is designed to help students learn about the achievements of women throughout American history.

Student Coupons

Student coupons are available for the National Women’s History Museum. These coupons are designed to help students visit the museum at a reduced price. Additionally, the museum offers a “Free Preview” for students who are interested in learning more about the museum before visiting.

School System and Propel Schools Partnership

The National Women’s History Museum is proud to be a part of the Pittsburgh CLO Academy of Musical Theater. This partnership provides students with the opportunity to receive high-quality musical theater training and to perform in professional productions.

Student Volunteer Program

The National Women’s History Museum offers a volunteer program for students who are interested in helping to organize and run events. Volunteers are encouraged to share their own experiences and to help other students learn about the achievements of women throughout American history.

Future Events

The National Women’s History Museum offers a variety of events throughout the year. These events include lectures, workshops, and performances. The museum is committed to providing events that are open to all students and to encouraging students to learn about the achievements of women throughout American history.

Conclusion

In conclusion, the National Women’s History Museum offers a variety of educational programs and outreach activities for students of all ages. These programs are designed to help students learn about the achievements of women throughout American history. Additionally, the museum offers a variety of events throughout the year that are open to all students.
